

missing dirigible Italia, reported by wireless at 9 p. m. that it was off Amsterdam island. The message said a very strong wind was blowing from the north coast of Spitzbergen.

At 9 p. m. tonight it was exactly 60 hours since the headquarters here of Gen. Umberto Nobile had heard from the dirigible Italia.

The last message came at 9 a. m., Greenwich time, on May 25. It reported the Italia on an easterly course and the belief of her navigators that the craft at 3 o'clock that morning had been about 150 miles north of Maffin island. That dot of land in the Arctic is approximately 75 miles north of this port. It seems evident now that when the message was sent those aboard the Italia were uncertain of their own position.

The Italia left Kings Bay for the pole at 4:40 a. m. on May 23. She reached her goal the following night and cruised about the top of the world for two hours before starting homeward.

Weather Extremely Cold.

The weather continued extremely cold despite some sunshine. There was a cold wind with fog over the mountains to the north.

The report that Capt. Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen, second in command to Gen. Nobile on the 1926 voyage of the Norge over the pole, would lead a searching expedition with airplanes, brought the comment that any aviators who undertook such a job would find their task difficult. The regular June fog conditions are prevalent at present.

Lack of news of the Italia has stopped much of the activity here. A grim silence has fallen over the little group of Italianans. There is no longer any busy military life with words of command sending men in bright uniforms scurrying about on errands. The transportation of tubes of gas and other preparations for the possible needs of the great airship have ceased.

Plan to Send Dog Team.

LONDON, May 27.—(U.P.)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen quotes a telegram from King's Bay as reporting that the Clitta Di Milano reached Amsterdam island Sunday evening, but too late to prevent the other ship of the dirigible Italia from going any further.

These advices added that two Norwegian hunters would be sent to Wide Ford to ask a famous hunter of the name of Nobile to take a dog team to North East Land in search of the missing explorers.

Calculations as to the probable position of the Italia when communications from her suddenly ceased, placed the dirigible at between 31 and 77 degrees north and 17 and 38 east. This would be off the coast of North East Land.

Norway Sends Airman.

OSLO, Norway, May 27.—(U.P.)—Lieut. Luitow Holm, Norwegian air ace, will leave tomorrow morning for Tromsø where he will embark with his plane on the expedition to take a dog team to North East Land in search of the missing dirigible Italia. Lieut. Holm intends first to explore the north and northeast coasts of Spitzbergen. Plans for the second part of the relief expedition, which will be under the joint leadership of Roald Amund-son and Capt. Otto Sverdrup have not been definitely settled.

Lieut. Holm will use a naval monoplane and will be accompanied by a mechanic. The Hobby will be used as his base ship.

The steamer Braganza also was ordered to leave Tromsø for King's Bay. Her commander will confer with the officers of the Clitta Di Milano and assist in the search.

ITALY IS STIRRED

BY DAVID DARRAE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] (Copyright, 1938, by The Chicago Tribune.)

ROME, May 27.—With no official news from Gen. Umberto Nobile and his crew of fifteen men for sixty hours, Italian aviation authorities tonight practically adopted the belief that the dirigible Italia, facing headwinds and overweighed with ice, in fact, was forced down in the Arctic seas.

Premier Benito Mussolini, who also is minister of aviation, gave his entire attention today to studying every report reaching the government from the polar area, and was in communication with Norwegian authorities about plans for sending out rescue parties.

Pope Pius, who has been keenly interested in Gen. Nobile's flight, expressed great grief today at the catastrophe. Special prayers were said for the crew's safety.

OFFICIALS YAWN AS GUNMEN JOIN CLEANERS' WAR

Crowe and Hughes Adopt Watchful Waiting Pose.

Until there is a display of violence, State's Attorney Crowe and Commissioner of Police Hughes said yesterday, they had no intention of interfering in the situation created by the entrance of Al Capone and his cohorts into the factional warfare of the cleaners and dyers.

Calls Charge Unsubstantiated.

Neither did Hughes or Crowe express alarm at the declaration of Morris Becker that he had associated gunmen with him for protection in the organization of the Sanitary Cleaning Shop, Inc. Among those listed as Becker's associates are Capone, Jack Guzik, vice overlord for Capone; Louis Cowen, publisher of the Cicero Tribune, and professional bondsman for Capone; Maurice Cowen, 3533 Alameda street, and Joseph Luffield, town attorney of Cicero.

"I can't stop a man from talking," remarked Mr. Hughes in commenting on Becker's statement that he no longer needed the protection of the police and the state's attorney. Mr. Crowe branded as untruthful Becker's statement that plans for protection against intimidation by criminals of the Master Cleaners and Dyers' association had been disregarded by the state's attorney's office. "Every complaint that Becker has made to me," said Mr. Crowe, "has been taken before the grand jury."

Employer Official Alarmed.

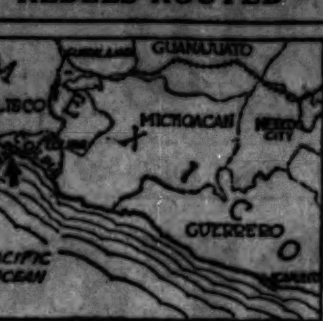

Meanwhile the plant which is to house the Becker-Capone enterprise is nearing completion at Prairie avenue and East 63d street.

Although enforcement officials are unperturbed at the prospect of violence in the cleaning industry, and despite the fact that Mr. Becker is satisfied that his interests will now be safeguarded, G. L. Hostetter, secretary of the Employer's association, is alarmed because a large business enterprise must seek favor of the underworld and racketeers.

REBELS ROUTED

(Map showing Mexican west coast port towns of Manzanillo, Jalisco, Michoacan, Guerrero, and Colima.)

Two hundred and fourteen men were killed or wounded in fighting between Mexican federal troops and rebels at Manzanillo, an official report from the military governor of the state of Colima revealed today.

The rebels lost 83 killed and 75 wounded and federal losses were 29 killed and 25 wounded.

Rebels attacked Manzanillo, the west coast port town, at dawn Friday after cutting communications. Police reinforced the federal garrison of thirty men and a warship in the harbor turned its guns on the rebels. Street fighting followed. Prominent rebel leaders were captured and executed.

Federal infantry and cavalry were sent from Colima and engaged the insurgents in fighting throughout the day. The police and little garrison met the rebel advance in the streets and hand to hand fighting followed for several hours before the assailants were driven out of the city. The gunboat kept up a steady bombardment of the rebels and aided the land forces materially.

SOCIALIST GROUP IN BELGIUM GIVES UP REVOLT CREED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] BRUSSELS, May 27.—"We don't want to destroy the bourgeoisie; we want to become part of it," the Belgian socialist railroad workers, post-office and telegraph employees announced at their national congress, thus giving up openly all ideas of revolution and declaring themselves in favor of slow evolution and "the reformist sort of socialism."

"We want to emancipate ourselves by and by, and obtain a slow but fruitful revolution in that fashion," they said.

"We don't betray the socialist program," the railroad workers explained. "But we don't want to be shot in the back by lunatics—meaning the communists." The congress decided to adhere to the Socialist party "as long as it continues to represent the working class."

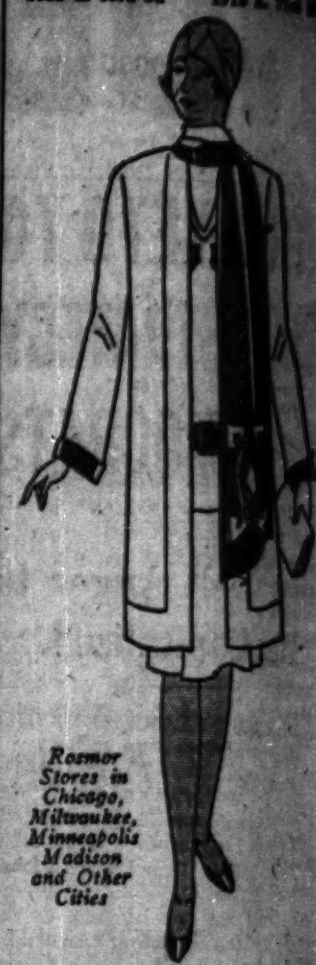

VERDICT CRUSHES MRS. KNAPP; TO DELAY SENTENCE

Albany, N. Y., May 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. Florence Knapp, former secretary of state, who was convicted of grand larceny last night for padding pay rolls during her administration of the 1925 census, was in a state of collapse today. Her two physicians visited her and a trained nurse was in attendance. Absolute rest and isolation, even from her friends, for a period of days were prescribed by the doctors.

Start College with Chicago Loan

Cardinal von Rossum, head of the congregation for the propagation of the faith, laying corner stone of college being erected on the hill of the Janiculum in Rome with $1,500,000 loan raised in Chicago by Cardinal Mandelstein.

Ministers I have interviewed to date agree upon this necessity to be different if our fair is to be distinguished.
Sir John Broderick, who, as commercial counselor to the British embassy, thoroughly knows British and American industry, said:

"To be different is the main thing.
The conventional exposition is an outgrown proposition. It is impossible to interest governments in such affairs.
The practical, commercial purpose of the traditional international exposition are now largely served by such annual fairs as the Leipzig fair and the British industrial fair in London and Birmingham.

Makes Concrete Suggestion.
"What Chicago proposes, as I understand from you, is a comprehensive and highly intensified world survey covering the progress of mankind since the great Columbian fair.
Such a fair will be as much a university as a show, and it will be worth while commercially and culturally.

"As a specific move in commanding the world's serious attention to the Chicago World's Fair I suggest this:
The promoters ought soon to get the support of every distributing firm of importance in the area tributary to Chicago. That support should be based upon the pledge that each of these firms will send its representatives to Chicago to make systematic studies of the exhibits which foreign traders make at Chicago. Those pledges should be written and they should be sent to foreign governments and individual exhibitors. They should be practical guarantees and—to avoid the peril of the flamboyant—they should not be drawn from too great an area.

Tired of Misleading Figures.
"Charts showing in detail the population and the principal requirements of the area on which the fair will draw for the bulk of its attendance should be prepared and sent to foreign exhibitors. And don't make that mistake of giving a circle. Exhibitors have become very wary.

"I believe that you will find that an agreement with the federal government that it erect a building at the Chicago fair is essential for its effect on foreign governments.

"Customs and bonding arrangements for the benefit of foreign exhibitors can hardly be promulgated too soon.

"If Britain participates I presume our principal contribution to the cultural aspects of the fair would be the exhibits of our new educational methods.

"As to our industrial exhibits we should probably emphasize pottery, shawls, high grade textiles, linens,
woolen goods, leather, cutlery, glass and glassware, sporting goods, high class toys, fishing tackle, golf balls, of which we send to you over a million dollars' worth a year, fancy food products, smokers' requisites, brushes, toilet soaps, umbrellas—I have to go home to get a good umbrella and walking sticks.

"That gives you a pretty fair idea of our running trade with you and of some of the industrial exhibits it would be worth our while to make."

POSSE, SEEKING BANK KILLERS, SHOOT 2 MEN

Lamar, Colo., May 27.—(AP)—Three dead, two wounded, and one missing tonight was the known toll of the robbery of the First National bank of this city last Wednesday. The quartet of bandits had not been found tonight, although possses have searched western Kansas, eastern Colorado, and the

A. N. Parrish, 71, president of the bank, and his son, John, 34, cashier, were killed in the holdup. Dr.
W. W. Wineinger of Dighton, Kan., was called from his home Wednesday night, presumably to treat the wounds of one of the four bandits. His body was found near Oakley, Kan., where his motor car had been driven over an embankment. E. A. Koeninger, assistant cashier of the bank, who was abducted by the bandits and used as a shield from bullets in their flight from Lamar, is missing.

Mistaken for Robbers.
Mistaken for the robbers, L. L. Robinson, restaurant man of Hill City, Kan., and Carl T. Peterson, farmer and former sheriff, from the same city, were shot and dangerously wounded by officers near Norton, Kan., last night.

Rumors have come from scattered points reporting the presence of the bandit gang, but all have been proved false. The latest rumor this afternoon indicated the bandits were concealed in a cabin near Healy, Kan., and scores of armed men in motor cars rushed to the place only to find that three men were entering a deserted cabin were hushers.

In the search mototcars and airplanes have been utilized. "Badlands" of western Kansas, northwestern Oklahoma, and eastern Colorado were searched; deserted cabins were investigated; strangers were sharply questioned.

Rewards More Than $10,000.
Officers are checking the report that Charles Chester (Clint), said to be an ex-convict from Oklahoma, had been identified through a photograph by ten witnesses of the robbery as one of the four bandits.

The loot obtained in the robbery was approximately $20,000. Rewards for the capture of the bandits tonight totalled more than half that sum.

AIRPLANE PLUNGES INTO HOLIDAY CROWD; ONE IS KILLED, 14 INJURED

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

PARIS, May 27.—The civilian air-meet at Orly airport came to a disastrous conclusion this afternoon when a naval monoplane, piloted by
M. Mingam, plunged into the crowd, killed one person outright and injured fourteen, including four women.
Hospital authorities say three of the injured are in desperate condition.

The aviator was flying from Paris to Fontainebleau and attempting to land at a given spot. His propeller grazed some trees and the plane dropped in the midst of a holiday crowd, the plane burying its nose in the ground. The pilot was thrown several yards, but suffered only slight injuries.

The disastrous exhibition, which caused a panic, was staged for the benefit of widows and orphans of aviators.

ts' arrest issued last week by Municipal Judge John J. Lupo, has thus far been unable to find Salts. It is suspected that the baron's gangster has fled to one of his Wisconsin lake retreats.

JAPANESE SEND SOLDIER TO CHINA IN TSINAN CASE

Nationalists Balk at Military Envoy.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TSINAN, May 27.—According to the local Chinese press, Baron Tanaka, Japanese premier, today notified Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, generalissimo of the nationalist armies, that the Japanese war office is dispatching Maj. Sato to China for the purpose of negotiating for the settlement of the Tsinan incident.

Baron Tanaka insists that the negotiations be conducted at the Japanese military headquarters at Tsinan, with a plenipotentiary delegate appointed by Gen. Chiang.

Immediately on receipt of this information, the nationalist government council sent three members of the council, including Tan Yen-ki, the chairman, to Suichow to confer with Gen. Chiang on the situation.

Want Neutral City.

According to members of the nationalist government here, the government is unwilling to meet the Japanese at Tsinan, insisting that the negotiations be conducted in Shanghai or some other neutral city, between plenipotentiary diplomatic officials of the Japanese government. The Chinese fear to trust the negotiations to a military official, and evince apprehension that the Japanese are planning to exert further military pressure on the extension of the Japanese military zone in Shantung.

According to the information from Peking, Baron Tanaka is insisting on a settlement between a military officer and a nationalist government diplomatic official.

Evidence of Treachery.

The nationalist government council has alleged documentary evidence that Baron Tanaka offered to permit Marshal Chang Tso-lin to return to Shantung inside the Japanese zone in the event that the nationalists refuse Japan's terms of settlement for the Tsinan incident.

Nationalist officials here allege that the Japanese are secretly assisting Marshal Chang, which is responsible for the sudden stiffening of the northern resistance in the Peking-Tientsin zone, and unless the nationalists comply with the Japanese demands regarding special interests in Shantung province, the Tanaka government will permit Marshal Chang to return to Shantung.

Accuse Japan Premier.

Nationalist officials here claim that Premier Tanaka is determined to re-establish the Japanese special rights in Shantung, making Shantung a Japanese sphere, similar to southern Manchuria.

The Chinese claim they already complied with the most reasonable terms of the Japanese ultimatum delivered to Gen. Chiang May 7, prior to Gen. Fokuda's bombardment of the Tsinan walled city, by withdrawing nationalist troops outside the Japanese military zone, but the nationalists flatly refuse to comply with the Japanese demand to disarm Gen. Chiang's main army, numbering between 20,000 and 30,000 troops, which the Japanese insist upon, also refusing to discharge and punish several high nationalist officers named by the Japanese as responsible for the Tsinan trouble.

Counter Attack Slow.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PEKING, May 27.—The Manchurian counter offensive apparently has not been fully launched, with the eventual prospects about as they were May 21. Then the possibility of a desperate and perhaps final battle in the nationalist struggle for the control of Peking and all China within the Great Wall was considered.

The battle line was from Machang, 40 miles south of Tientsin, to Pao-tung, about 90 miles south of Peking. Withdrawal is unlikely until a desperate effort is made to break the invading lines.

The important development seems to be the general anti-foreign sentiment, especially among the younger element of both factions, due chiefly to the determination of the Japanese to intervene. This is aggravated by the Japanese aerial observation.

Not only along the railway, but across the 120 mile battle line, Japanese aerial observation continues, causing protests from both factions and also producing fire, although the Japanese have dropped no more bombs since the Tsinan and Yenchow incidents.

CITIZEN GROUPS FIGHT FOR BAR'S JUDICIAL TICKET

Call on Voters to Elect
'Independent Judges.'

BY PARKE BROWN.

Two boards for the Chicago Bar association candidates for the Superior court in the election next Monday were made public yesterday. One came from directors of the Citizens' association and the other from the business men's committee, which supported Judge John A. Swanson, victor in the Republican state's attorneyship fight last month.

Since the rules of the Citizens' association prohibit its endorsement of candidates, a letter sent out to the membership was signed by eighteen of the nineteen directors as individuals, the nineteenth director being abroad.

"The time has come," says the letter, "for independent and disinterested voters, regardless of party, to take a positive stand in favor of an independent and nonpartisan judiciary as opposed to the present system under which judges are named as the result of bipartisan deals."

Bar Ticket Indorsed.

The letter expresses the belief that "the vote of the membership of the Chicago Bar association by which its seven candidates were placed on the ticket furnished the best available test of their high professional standing and superior fitness."

"As citizens of Cook county having the welfare of the community at heart," continues the appeal, "we hereby pledge our support to the candidates sponsored by the Chicago Bar association."

"In our opinion the Chicago Bar association because of its effective activity against ballot frauds and other forms of political lawlessness, as well as because of its taking the initiative in this fight for a nonpartisan judiciary, merits the active backing in this fight of all citizens who would like to strike another blow at the existing alliance between crime and crooked politics, which has given Chicago an evil reputation throughout the world and has made life and property in this county unsafe."

Signers of the Statement.

The signers were the following: A. S. Peabody, Francis E. Broome, Albert B. Brunker, George R. Carr, Henry F. Chandler, George E. Cole, Joseph Donnerberg, Leslie F. Gase, Henry S. Henshall, Charles R. Holden, DeForest Hulford, George R. Jenkins, Frederick Z. Marx, Roy C. O'Connell, Holman D. Pettibone, R. L. Randolph, Julius Stern, Lewis C. Walker.

One of these directors, Albert B. Brunker, is also chairman of the Swanson business men's committee. He announced that campaign headquarters for the committee had been opened at 715 Conway building and that active work in support of the nonpartisan ticket would be begun at once.

"Business men of Chicago know that the recent primary was only a step in the right direction," he said, "and having this in mind after a re-

Two Candidates for Vacancy in Superior Court Sketched

Herewith are sketches of the two nominees for the vacancy on the Superior bench that is to be filled by the voters next Monday. Sketches of the nominees for the six full terms will be published hereafter in alphabetical order. (Pictures on back page.)

Municipal Judge Robert E. Gentzel, the regular nominee for the Superior court vacancy, was a candidate for secretary of state in the April primary, but went down in the landslide. He has been elected twice to the city bench, the first time in 1920 and the second in 1925, his present term running until 1932. He also was the Republican nominee for a Circuit court vacancy in 1923, when he was defeated by the late John K. Prindle, a Democrat, by a narrow margin.

Record Called Envyable.

In 1926 the Chicago Bar association report said of him:

"Judge Gentzel has made an enviable record as judge of the Municipal court for the last six years. His promptness in opening court and his faithful attention to his judicial duties are commended. He is exceptionally well qualified for the office and should be re-nominated."

Judge Gentzel was not a primary candidate on the Thompson-Small ticket for secretary of state of his own initiative or desire, but was drafted by the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin executive committee without even advance notice. It was known at that time that his own preference was to run for the state court, but his political superiors needed a German name on the ballot, and he happened to be on the scene when the selection was to be made, so he fell in with their wishes.

But, having entered the race, he campaigned vigorously to make up for a late start, and although there were four candidates for the secretaryship he ran ahead of State's Attorney Crowe, who was considered the head of the local ticket.

Admitted to Bar in 1901.

Judge Gentzel is 53 years old. He was born in Chicago and resides at 7650 Ellwood street. He attended the law departments of Lake Forest university and New York university, receiving his professional degree from the former. He was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1901 and engaged in general practice until elected to the Municipal court.

He was employed by Lackner & Butts from 1890 to 1893, and by Charles Scates from 1894 to 1898. He was a member of the firm of Gentzel & Crane for twelve years and associated in practice with Louis J. Behan, now a south park commissioner, and Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county central committee for the last twelve years.

He was attorney for the west park board from 1917 to 1920 under the Lowden state administration, his appointment being credited to Chairman Galpin. Galpin is considered his political sponsor, although, except for his recent state candidacy, he never has been charged with judicial activity in political affairs.

view of conditions in our courts we intend to continue our organization in full force for the rest of the year.

"The back room bosses are through. They have fostered and perpetuated high taxes in this community. They are responsible for the unthinkable reputation which has besmirched Chicago and Cook county. "We therefore are serving notice on these back room bosses that there will be no compromise, that high or low, whoever they may be that try to impede progress in this community through bipartisanship or any other specious political method, will be fought to the end."

He also is remembered by the legal fraternity as an assistant state's attorney under Charles S. Deneen and John J. Healy, and also as the special prosecutor who, as an assistant attorney general under Edward J. Brundage, successfully prosecuted the vice, gambling and liquor ring in Rock Island.

Wins by Heavy Vote.

Although possibly more closely associated with the Deneen group politically, he frequently has been aligned with the Brundage forces in his senatorial district which includes Rogers Park and Evanston. His district overwhelmingly re-nominated him for the senate on April 10 and his name was put on the judicial ballot by the Chicago Bar association's petition.

Senator Barbour is one of the few men still in the upper house of the legislature who has opposed most of the small policies from their inception seven years ago. He was active in the Eastington-Glenn group that defeated the Small-Thompson program of 1921, and although that group has been greatly reduced in numbers, Senator Barbour has continued the fight. Among the legislators he is known as a champion of civil service and a protector of pension funds against raids.

"Opponent of Bad Measures." In 1924 the Legislative Voters' league report called him "an energetic, hard working member who was a constant opponent of bad measures put forward by the Small administration."

The most recent report of the Chicago Bar association says of him: "He has made an enviable record in the state senate for twelve years. His professional experience thoroughly qualifies him for judicial office and we regard him as well qualified."

In the February bar primary he ran sixth in a field of 29 candidates, including six sitting judges, running ahead of three of them and receiving 1,224 of the 2,195 votes cast, being one of the only six to receive a majority endorsement. Senator Barbour is 58 years old and lives at 2423 Hartwell street, Evanston. He was educated in the grammar and high schools of Newark, N. J., and attended the law department of Lake Forest university and also studied law in the office of the late Judge Frederick A. Smith. He was admitted to practice in 1891. Stark Cancellation Campaign.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] PARIS, May 27.—The spring offensive of the war debt cancellationists now can be considered officially under way. Dr. Charles S. MacFarland, secretary general of the Federal Council of Churches, fired the first salvo from the pulpit of the American Church of Paris this morning.

The American principles should be translated into deeds, the doctor asserted, and the way to do this concretely is to adhere to the world court and actually participate instead of sending observers to the league of nations.

"We should treat with sympathy and justice those devastated, depleted nations which owe us debts of money but whom we owe great moral debts," Dr. MacFarland said.

Believed "Big Vegetable."

Official Paris hears that he is "grosse legume," or a big vegetable—French slang for "a representative personage"—in America, and therefore his utterances are considered a first rate incentive for a revival of the cancellation cry, both from French sources and professional American debt scratchers resident in Paris.

The doctor paid a tribute to Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's peace efforts, but added, "Let me not be misunderstood. I am not pleading for silly, moonish pacifism. Of course no nation can disarm alone. Nor am I blithely setting forth some vague conception of internationalism which would mar the spirit of genuine patriotism."

CHICAGO GROUP DOES MISSIONARY WORK IN HOUSTON

Tells Dixie Democrats What North Wants.

Houston, Tex., May 27.—[Special.]—A group of Chicago politicians arrived today to complete arrangements for housing the Illinois visitors to the Democratic convention. Incidentally they learned something of the southern Democrats' impression of the north wing of his party, and did some missionary work in acquainting the convention hosts with a picture of the Tankees west.

The party consisted of Timothy J. Crowe, John J. Tushy, William C. O'Brien, Michael L. Igoe and Martin J. O'Brien.

Tells Aims of North. "Is it true that the north will insist upon giving the Negro his suffrage if the south insists upon a plank for strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment?" an interviewer asked O'Brien.

"No," O'Brien answered, "the north isn't going to try to tell you how to handle your colored problem and the north wants you to return the courtesy and let us handle our prohibition problem as we see fit."

"Will Illinois try to get a weak plank in the national platform?" "No, all we want is Al Smith and an opportunity to enforce the eighteenth amendment as we interpret it and not as Volstead read it."

"Is it true your recent state primary whipped crime?" some one asked O'Brien, who nodded.

"How about Thompson?" an interviewer inquired.

"Have respect for the dead," a Chicagoan responded.

The party visited the convention hall, which is nearing completion, and called at the business headquarters, asking for rooms to accommodate three hundred from Illinois. They also sought an appointment with Jesse H. Jones of Houston, who is a favorite son presidential candidate.

GLORIA GOULD RUSHES TO RENO, IS IT DIVORCE?

New York, May 27.—[Special.]—The arrival of Gloria Gould Bishop in Reno, America's divorce capital, apparently puts the seal of certainty on gossip that the youthful daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, sister of Lady Duff, and wife of wealthy young Henry A. Bishop Jr., is through with marriage.

After repeated denials of a break between the young Bishop, it was broadly hinted more than a year ago, following a Gould family council in Paris, where Gloria was living with her 2 year old baby, Gloria, that if Bishop would not go to Reno, Gloria would go to America. If Bishop would not go to Reno and fulfill the requirements necessary to obtain a quiet French decree, his wife would pursue her ambition to be free by returning home and filing suit in America, it was reported.

Young Mrs. Bishop arrived in Reno last week and rented two adjoining bungalows. She has refused to comment on her residence there or her plans, but those who know of Gloria's pronounced preference for her Parisian apartment are aware that she is not in Reno for her health, except insofar as health may be dependent on marital freedom.

POLITICAL FORTUNES OF BOTH TURN THIS ON WEST VIRGINIA

Fortunes of Both and Smith Inv

Chicago Tribune from Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—Political fortunes of Commerce Herbert Hoover, Al Smith are involved in the West Virginia primary election.

Democrats will select delegates to the West Virginia primary election this week in either a capture of a majority by the Republicans or a narrow victory by the Democrats.

The West Virginia election is a contest over the nomination in the Republican primary, while the Democrats will be damaged by the election of Gov. Smith in Maryland.

Already the West Virginia election has defeated Reed and Oregon.

With the West Virginia election the Republican delegates are complete.

The Democrats still have a long way to go in Kentucky, North Carolina, and Virginia. Including six states in the West Virginia election, the Democrats remain to be selected.

3 CONSECRATED AS BISHOPS BY LAYING ON HANDS

Methodist Conference to Close Tomorrow.

Kansas City, Mo., May 27.—(AP)—The annual conference of the three newly consecrated bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church in a spectacular ceremony here today climaxed the week's session of the quadrennial general conference which convenes at noon Tuesday. The conference convened May 1.

In an impressive laying on of hands, Bishop Raymond J. Wade of Chicago and James C. Baker of Urbana, Ill., and Missionary Bishop Edwin F. Lee of Hongkong were consecrated to their episcopal duties before a large crowd in convention hall.

Assign 33 Bishops.

Assignment of the 33 effective bishops to residences throughout the world remained as the principal business of the conference, though discussion of important reports still were to be discussed. Dr. Merton S. Rice, chairman of the committee of the episcopacy, said his committee likely would report late today.

His committee's work was complicated, he said, by the sudden dramatic election Friday night, after a three day election deadlock, of Dr. B. Stanley Jones, missionary to India, to the episcopacy and Dr. Jones' even more dramatic resignation last night which threw the conference into near confusion at the eleventh hour before completion.

Decline Appointment.

Dr. Jones, first man ever to refuse an episcopal appointment, said he had been elected on a wave of emotion, following the dramatic appeal of Miss

Shelton Kim of Seoul, Korea, against consideration of the Seoul-Manila resolution, and that he did not believe his election was a sound choice. He also advised he did not want to leave his consular work in India, where he has served for more than 20 years.

The conference then voted to accept his resignation and consolidate the South-Singapore areas, under the episcopacy of the only missionary bishop, Dr. Lee, thus eliminating one episcopal residence and reducing the number of bishops.

Reinstate Minister.

The Rev. John P. Ingersoll, former pastor of the Jerusalem church in Copenhagen, Denmark, who was unfrocked and ousted from the church in 1925 for his connection in the Bishop Anton East civil trial, was ordered reinstated to full ministry and membership. The judicial committee reported Mr. Ingersoll had been unfrocked illegally and without sufficient cause.

The action vindicated his position in the East case. An ecclesiastical court here permanently suspended the bishop from the episcopacy on charges of imprudent and unministerial conduct.

In an endeavor to escape the electric chair Chisholm will plead guilty to first degree murder and throw himself on the mercy of the court, his counsel, Joseph Conroy of Hammond and Anthony Filipiak of East Chicago, said yesterday. Chisholm has confessed that he drowned the boys in the Indiana Harbor canal because Mrs. Helen Lawrence, with whom he was living, complained about household expenses and the boys' behavior.

Chisholm's lawyers will plead that he was shell shocked during the war and was mentally unbalanced when he drowned his sons.

SLAYER OF SONS IS EXPECTED TO PLEAD INSANITY

A plea of insanity is expected to be made today before Judge Grant Cummings at Valparaiso, Ind., by George Allen Chisholm, world war veteran who will be placed on trial for the murder of his two sons, Edgar, 7, and George, 9, at Indiana Harbor, Ind., last February.

Chisholm has confessed that he drowned the boys in the Indiana Harbor canal because Mrs. Helen Lawrence, with whom he was living, complained about household expenses and the boys' behavior.

Chisholm's lawyers will plead that he was shell shocked during the war and was mentally unbalanced when he drowned his sons.

Unidentified Youth Found Slain in Galesburg Box Car

Galesburg, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Local police were without clues today to the identity of a youth of 21 years whose body was found in a box car on the Burlington railroad yesterday. He wore expensive clothes of English manufacture under a suit of old work clothes. Death apparently was caused by blows on the head. Last Tuesday night the youth slept in the county jail. A theory was that he was heading his way across the country and had been murdered by tramps.

POISON KILLS WIFE; ROW OVER SPOON IS BLAMED

A quarrel which followed her criticism of her husband's manner of holding a spoon is believed to have led Mrs. Gladys Drew, 48 years old, to take a fatal draught of poison Friday evening. She died early yesterday at Washington Park hospital.

The husband, Edwin Drew, 62, told police that he and his wife were having dinner in a restaurant at 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue when the quarrel occurred.

He said she left the restaurant without finishing her meal and returned to their apartment at the Pershing hotel. When he returned to the apartment he found her on the floor. She was taken to the hospital where physicians made a vain attempt to save her life.

Coroner's Physician Irving A. Porges ordered an examination of the woman's stomach. Drew is an engineer for the Rock Island railroad.

Hunt in Vain for Broker in $500,000 Embezzlement

Chicago police yesterday continued a fruitless search for Roger W. Watkins, a broker, wanted by Hartford, Conn., authorities for an alleged embezzlement of $500,000 in bonds. Guy Trembler, Watkins' brother-in-law, and said to bear a remarkable likeness to Watkins, was arrested at the Hotel Sherman last Friday. Detectives suspect that Watkins has fled to South America.

BRITISH TAKES CHAIRMANSHIP OF COMMITTEE

Advanced by Butler Death to Navy Leadership.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—(Special.)—The election of Representative A. Britton (Rep., Ill.) to the chairmanship of the house naval affairs committee will offset the Illinois legislature's loss of the important appropriations committee chairmanship when Representative Martin R. Madden died a few weeks ago.

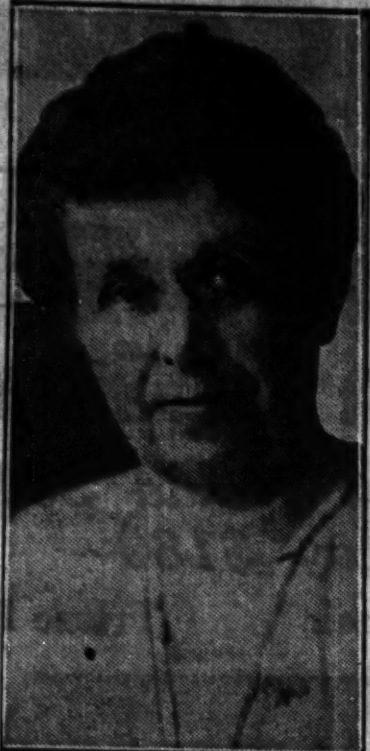

Representative Britton, an ardent advocate of adequate preparedness and leader of the so-called "big navy" group in congress, has been a member of the naval affairs committee for more than a decade. For the last eight years he has been ranking Republican member of the committee.

During recent months, when the committee was studying the naval budget, Representative Thomas Butler (Rep., Pa.), who died yesterday, was inactive much of the time owing to illness. Mr. Britton was acting chairman.

When Representative Madden died, Mr. Britton, by virtue of his seniority and position of continuous service, became chairman of the committee.

He entered the house in 1911, and was re-elected for eight consecutive terms to November, 1928. Representative John C. Rosten (Rep., Ill.), of the 14th district, was recently named to the Madden vacancy in the appropriations committee, and Representative Thomas S. Williams (Rep., Ill.), of the 34th district, was appointed to fill Madden's place in the house committee on committees.

She will remain to attend the International Congress Against Alcoholism, which meets in Antwerp on Aug. 21.

CONGRESS READY TO QUIT; BOULDER DAM IN THE WAY

Lobby Refuses to Yield Time to Naval Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., May 27.—(Special.)—Congress is ready for adjournment, with only the contest over Boulder dam legislation keeping members in doubt as to the exact time. All indications are that the highly organized Boulder dam lobby will fail in its attempt to force action by the senate on the gigantic power, irrigation, flood control and water supply project.

Even though the forces headed by Senator Johnson [Rep., Cal.] succeeded in blocking approval of the house resolution fixing 5 o'clock on Tuesday as the hour of adjournment, there is no likelihood that the Boulder dam bill will come to a vote.

The effect of a postponement of adjournment until Friday or Saturday, it is believed, will be chiefly to give a new lease of life to the administration's naval cruiser bill and to other legislation caught in the jam of the closing days.

All Night Session Looms. If the senate tomorrow adopts the house adjournment resolution without amendment a continuous session from 11 o'clock tomorrow morning until 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon seems a certainty. Senator Johnson undoubtedly will seek to hold the senate in session all of tomorrow night.

Upon Senator Johnson and his associates will fall the responsibility for the failure of such legislation as remains enacted upon because of the refusal of the Californian to sidetrack the Boulder dam bill.

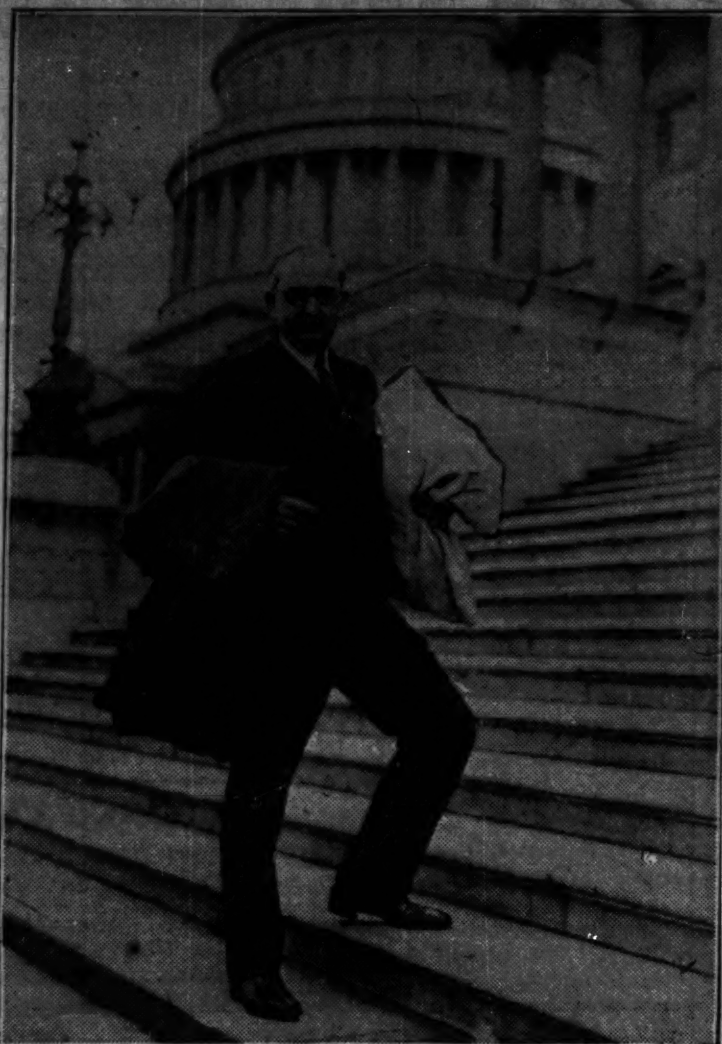

Senator Hale [Rep., Me.], chairman of the naval committee, has pleaded vainly for an opportunity to take up the naval cruiser authorization bill, passed many weeks ago by the house. The pacifist-radical group, forming the main reliance of the Boulder dam lobby, is indifferent to the fate of the naval cruiser bill, the purpose of which is to put the United States on a basis of preparedness comparable to that of other nations.

Annual Bills Out of the Way. The pacifist-radicals offered no objection to action on such measures as the $20,000,000 salary increase bill applying to 145,000 government employees and were active in support of the Music Schools government operation bill. Both of these bills slipped through the senate while the Boulder dam bill was technically the unfinished business to the exclusion of all else.

There is nothing to keep congress in session a moment beyond the time the Boulder dam lobby admits its defeat. All of the regular annual appropriation bills have been enacted into law.

Although the Boulder dam has been the unfinished business before the senate since last Monday night, when

When Filibuster Ties Up Senate

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, recently appointed from Michigan, entering the senate chamber with a pillow and a pair of blankets, prepared for lengthy debate.

the tax bill was passed, only two speeches on it have taken place during that period.

Senator Johnson talked for an hour in support of the bill and Senator Hayden [Dem., Ariz.] spoke for a couple of hours against it. Senator Hayden began his speech three weeks ago, before the tax bill temporarily displaced Boulder dam before the senate, and he has not as yet concluded. Other matters have intervened and made it unnecessary for him to hold the floor. He is prepared to resume his address tomorrow as soon as action is taken on the question of adjournment. Senator Hayden is loaded with ammunition for use against the Boulder dam project.

THEATER CHAIN GETS BACKING TO PAY OBLIGATIONS

Two investment bankers yesterday agreed to advance sufficient funds to stave off the pressing financial obligations of the National Playhouse, Inc., a string of ten outlying movie houses. It was announced following a meeting of 3,000 stockholders at the Capitol theater, 79th and Halsted streets.

Besides the Capitol the theaters in the National Playhouse string are the Avalon, Cosmopolitan, Jeffery, Grove, Highland, West Englewood, Chatham, and two others. Attorney Michael Ahern of Nash & Ahern, counsel for the stockholders' group, which is headed by Martin McNally, stated that the obligations of the movie string amounted to about $400,000, of which about $100,000 represented "pressing obligations."

Several changes will be made in the management of the houses, Mr. Ahern said.

LATVIA GETS ON SOLID BASIS AND NEEDS NO LOANS

Foreign Debt of Nation Only $4,175,000.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
RIGA, Latvia, May 27.—Economically the ten year old republic of Latvia, having outgrown its fear of absorption by soviet Russia, is in a happy position. Foreign Minister Antonius Belodis said today. The country is without urgent need of foreign loans for national purposes, and the total of the present foreign debts is only $4,175,000, or about $3.35 per capita. All foreign debts practically are included in the English and American debts, funded on favorable terms. The internal debt is small.

One of the financial estimates in the Riga municipal debt, originally $500,000 ($2,500,000) now with interest about $1,000,000 ($5,000,000). This was made by the Russian government before the world war with Latvia. France and it is claimed, was used by the Russians for war purposes.

Row Over Form of Payment.
At any rate, it is recognized by Riga, but a dispute is still going on regarding the form of payment. The bonds were issued by Russia in rubles, French francs, German marks, and English pounds.

Some American capital is now coming into the country by private enterprise, but only slowly, as there were some losses during the period of inflation. This is now over and the series of bankruptcies which took place last year are regarded here as simply squeezing water out of Latvian industry, which now is claimed to be on a sound basis.

The chief assets of the country are timber, shipping, and farming, which offer possibilities of great expansion if properly financed.

Great Lakes Sailor Walks in Front of Train; Killed

Raymond Susselmann, a second class

seaman at Great Lakes Naval Training station, was killed yesterday when he walked in front of a freight train on the Chicago and North Western railroad at 23d street, North Chicago. His home was in Oskan, Ind.

LA SALLE ST. PAVING UNDER CONTRACT, HELD UP PENDING BOND VOTE

The paving of La Salle street between Washington and Lake streets has been postponed until such time as a bond issue is voted providing sufficient funds for the widening of La Salle up to Ohio street. It was revealed yesterday by Michael J. Faberty, president of the board of local improvement.

Mr. Faberty explained that all was in readiness for the La Salle street paving to commence, the contract having been awarded to the John A. McGarry company for $231,000, when lawyers for the paving company struck the legal snag.

It was found that lawyers of the Dever administration coupled the widening and paving assessment proceedings, and that therefore it would be impossible to go forward with any of the work until sufficient money is at hand to pay the widening costs.

Mr. Faberty said La Salle street property owners will be notified of the situation, so that they may put in sidewalks themselves if they wish.

JOLIET HONORS SCHOOL BAND AS IT AGAIN WINS
Citizens of Joliet enthusiastically honored their high school band yesterday for its third consecutive victory in the national high school band contest. Having been first in the three contests held, Joliet now is entitled to keep in its permanent possession the $1,000 trophy awarded by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music.

The judges, John Philip Sousa, famous bandmaster, Edwin Franko Goldman and Capt. Charles O'Neill, also nationally known bandmasters, did not reach their decision until early Sunday morning. Second place was awarded to Senn High school of Chicago; third to Modesto, Cal.; fourth to Gary, Ind.; fifth to Hammond, Ind., and sixth to Council Bluffs, Ia. Two thousand students took part in the contest, representing 27 high schools from fifteen states.

In the competition among class B bands, those of schools having an enrollment of less than 400, St. Mary's Industrial school of Baltimore, Md., was first; Lansing Vocational school, Lansing, Mich., second; Princeton, Cal., third; and Vermillion, B. D., fourth.

Flyer Going 150 Miles an Hour Hits Cable—and Lives

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, May 27.—Flight Lieut. Wells, traveling 150 miles an hour in the aerial derby at Melbourne, struck an electric cable which severed both wings of his plane and sent a blinding burst of flame over the craft. The airplane plunged into the ground. Lieut. Wells was unconscious and his head was crushed. It is feared he will lose his sight.

CAIN AND ABEL SCENE STAGED IN RUSSIAN COURT

3,000 Witness Climax to Sabotage Trial.

[Copyright, 1928, By The New York Times.]
MOSCOW, May 27.—There was a stupendous climax to the trial of the first week of the trial of 58 Russians and three Germans accused of sabotage in the Donets' basin coal mines at midnight last night. Before 3,000 people white with excitement and clutching their seats with right fingers there was enacted in grim earnest the world's first tragedy. Here in twentieth century Moscow they saw Cain kill Abel.

All day long the prosecution had been battering a Ukrainian peasant, Andrey Kolodob, confrontations, depositions, and Prosecutor Krylenko's questions were swung brutally, sudden as a club, or subtly and sharp as a rapier. He met them all, more stubborn than granite.

"It isn't true; I never did it; I never said so; I never knew it," he said. He would not bend or break.

Then M. Krylenko called Emilian Kolodob and Cain, the fratricide, shambled forward to face the court. If M. Krylenko's strange, un-European profile is a facsimile of the Scythian warriors pictured for posterity on golden coins, wrought 500 years before Christ, Emilian Kolodob throws right back to primeval man, to the brute. Emman, shapeliness, hulking, with thick Negroid lips, a flat nose and a great prognathous jaw, he towered above his brother standing a bare yard to his right.

Once in a tense moment the hairy hands that hung down nearly to his knees clutched the heavy mahogany pillar before him bearing the loud speaker so that it swayed and almost fell. Easily he could believe the evidence of his brutality, of how he beat and bullied workers and red or German soldier slaves toiling to enrich him.

But there was keen intelligence in his deep set eyes and a strong brain behind his heavy brows of authority. His voice also was loud, clear and booming. Ruined, trapped, self-convicted beyond despair, he was utterly fearless, utterly assured.

Brother Against Brother.

Gently the presiding judge put questions to the brothers.

Yes, said Emilian, they had always been good friends. Yes, echoed Andrey. Yes, said Emilian, he was older than his brother and more successful.

Yes, echoed Andrey. Yes, said Emilian, he had helped his brother in many ways. Yes, echoed Andrey.

"You admit the guilt of counter revolution, conspiracy, sabotage?" asked the judge.

"Yes," said Emilian.

"But you maintain your innocence?"

"Yes," said Andrey.

More softly still the judge questioned Cain:

"Your brother was a member of a conspirative organization?"

"Yes, indeed," the voice boomed.

"Never," said Abel, firmly.

Charges He Damaged Mine.

"According to the instructions of your conspirative organization," came the pitiless climax, "your brother, Andrey, Krylovich Kolodob, willfully damaged a mine under his charge?"

"Yes, indeed," roared Cain, gripping the mahogany pillar.

"Never," answered Abel, turning away from the judge so that his full face was toward M. Krylenko.

Strong men indeed are the masters that serve this infant republic of workers and peasants, but there was more and worse to come. Andrey Kolodob was called to the cross. Now for the final spear thrust.

Casualty one of the subordinate judges asked about Andrey's relations with his son, Kyril. The man looked thoroughly bewildered. To enlighten him they read a letter which Kyril had sent to the Pravda a few days ago.

"I denounce my father as a whole-hearted traitor and a foe to the working class. I demand for him the severest penalty. I reject him and the name he bears. Henceforth I call myself not Kolodob but Shakhin."

Andrey Kolodob stood motionless.

Not Until he Turned to Tribune Want Ads Could Mr. A. W. Komarek Succeed in his Venture

Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Illinois.

Gentlemen:

About six years ago our first office was opened at 22nd Street near Austin Boulevard. Our operations were confined to this territory for a period of four years.

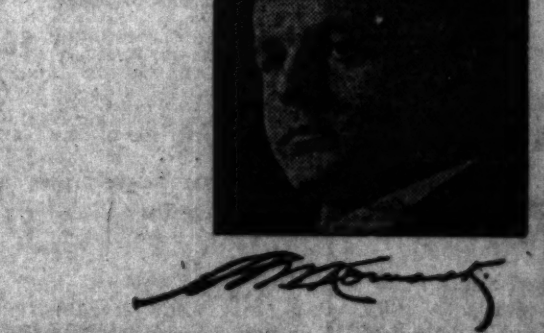

Our organization became so large that it was necessary to look for new outlets. We decided on the Southwest side, West of Kedzie Avenue, and our second office was opened at Archer and Cicero Avenues two and one-half years ago. We were one of the few Real Estate operators in this vast section, because it was considered by everyone to be a dormant territory, and this was confirmed by the fact that the first six months of our endeavors in this locality produced no results.

Finally we decided to let The Chicago Tribune help us in our last stand, and our first Ad was put in. The immediate results proved astonishing. Property that had not been a turn-over for 15 years was sold in twenty-four hours. Needless to say we continued, as your records will show, to advertise in your newspaper every day for the past two years. We find that more than 50% of the inquiries we receive can be directly or indirectly traced to The Chicago Tribune.

Our contract for 1928 has been signed and mailed to your office. We would not start the year right if we did not sign a "Tribune" Contract.

Yours sincerely,
A. W. KOMAREK AND COMPANY.

AWK:BF

THERE could be no better test for the true worth of a real estate advertising medium than its ability to create instant sales for properties that had been dormant 15 years.

And this is exactly what Tribune Want Ads did for Mr. Komarek when, after six months of total failure, he enlisted their help.

Like thousands of real estate owners and dealers in Chicago and its suburbs, Mr. Komarek learned to his profit what great results follow the use of an advertising medium that molds the buying decisions of 93 per cent of Chicago's able to buy families.

If you have any properties for sale you can duplicate Mr. Komarek's success if you hitch the greatest real estate sales force in Chicago to your promotional efforts by calling . . .

A. C. L. IN RUSSIA BLAMED ON HIGH COST OF BOSSES

Government-Run Stores Have Many Officials.

BY VINCENT M. VOKOVICH.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright 1928, by The Chicago Tribune.)

RUSSIA, Leningrad, May 27.—The structure of trade and business in soviet Russia is based on cooperative principles of distribution of food supplies and manufactured commodities.

Government-owned business in Russia is subdivided into six classes, each carrying on business independently, and in some cases competing with each other. These organizations are the syndicates, trading associations, stock companies, self-supporting enterprises, wholesalers and retail stores, and miscellaneous enterprises.

Whether there are two stores there is a management of the organization. Usually the management is composed of several highly paid officials in addition to the staff of clerical workers. Personnel equal them in his government organizations, and therefore the overhead expenses are enormous. All these unnecessary expenses are reflected upon the prices of the commodities, and the consumer is the one who pays, hence the high cost of the goods.

Three Kinds of Cooperatives.

The cooperative is subdivided into three groups, namely, the consumers' cooperative, the agricultural cooperative, and the Central and Union Cooperative.

The consumers' cooperative is subdivided into numerous organizations, each operating independently, but all are organized on the same principles. The agricultural cooperative supplies the country exclusively.

The Central-Union cooperative is an organization of different kinds, but organized like the consumers' cooperative, under the same principles. Due to the fact that the large scale production is not making great progress, the government encourages the development of home manufacturing and small group production or organizations. These hand workers and small manufacturers are called the petty supplement.

The third classification of business enterprise is subdivided into three groups, thus: Government-private stock companies, private capital enterprises, and intermediate private companies.

Government Acts as Stockholder.

There are many business houses with government participating as a shareholder or financing the operation. The intermediate business or

RACES STORK ON SKIS 25 MI. OVER WYOMING MOUNTAIN AND WINS

Fewell, Wyo., May 27.—(AP)—The story of a twenty-five mile hike on skis over the mountain fastnesses of northwestern Wyoming, as the first lap of a successful 75 mile race against the stork was told here today by Mrs. Herbert Ward, wife of a young rancher.

Mrs. Ward said late spring snows had filled the passes, and there was no way out except on skis. With her husband she had made her way to the village of Sunlight and then had come over land by sledges.

The child was born here shortly after the mother's arrival. Mrs. Ward was the former Edith Walls of Chicago.

Capitalism is private, but not purely capitalistic. It is a speculative concern and stands between the capitalist and the government.

The business turnover of these various groups shows the development toward the cooperative form of trade, with tendencies toward gradual decreasing of the private activities in the market. The comparison between 1924-25 and 1926-27 gives the following results:

Per Cent of 1926-27, of 1924-25.

Gov. . . . 109,800,000 25 2,255,000,000 22

Gov. pr. . . . 271,500,000 1 440,000,000 27

Priv. . . . 4,500,000,000 27 5,500,000,000 18

The table is of varying value but worth 50 cents at par.

In private business, evidently, the amount proposed about 25 per cent, but the proportion of the total business turnover considerably decreased, and according to the latest reports from Moscow, this had been decreased to about 18 per cent in the beginning of 1928.

Private Business Curbed.

Private business in deprived of commodities, transportation and credits, and it pays heavy taxes. When I left Leningrad a friend told me Russia had increased his half-yearly taxes to 40,000 rubles (about $20,000), while his total turnover cannot reach 150,000 rubles (about $75,000).

"I have to close my business," he said.

The shortage of railroad cars places private business at a disadvantage. Cars are given first to the government and cooperatives. If there are any cars left they are given to the private enterprises. An acquaintance, a fruit dealer, told me in 1927 that the fruit was rotting at the ground in southern Russia and he could not get cars to transport it to Moscow and Kharkov, where he had markets for all he could ship. He said he had to bribe officials in order to get a car. It often happens that a supply man is caught grafting. Private business men pay the warehousemen to get the manufactured goods. There were many instances of the management being implicated in selling products to private businesses while the cooperatives could not get them. The "Nepman" has to bribe and cheat and fight to get goods for the market. The government produces the commodities and sells them either directly to the consumer or to the cooperatives.

SARUK RUGS

To all lovers of Oriental Rugs the name Saruk is synonymous with high quality. They are among the finest woven in Persia and have no superior in wearing quality. In design there is no mistaking their pure Persian origin—deep, rich rose, red and dark blue fields are the rule, with contrasting floral designs; some featuring spray effects; others the more geometrical style of floral treatment. When the field is rose the patterns are daintily worked out in tan, ivory and green flowers and foliage outlined in dark and light blues. On the other hand, when the field is dark blue, the designs are executed in rose, tan, ivory, light blue and green . . . altogether charming in their deep, rich effects.

These Values Are Exceptional

The sizes and prices only are given, as the colorings and designs described above are characteristic of all. The fine quality is indicated by their sharply defined pattern showing on the back and the thick, heavy, silk-like beauty of the pile.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN IN INDOOR PLANE CONTEST

Craft of Boy, 15, Soars
Aloft 4 Min. 19 Seconds

The world's record for the duration flight of an indoor tractor model was broken yesterday by a plane flown by Carl V. Carlson, aged 15, of 246 North Austin boulevard. Young Carlson's plane circled toward the rafters in the 13th infantry armory and was kept in air by its rubber strand motor four minutes and 19 seconds.

As it became apparent that young Carlson's craft was to make model plane history, the story being told by the stop watches was megaphoned to the gathered spectators, and when the white paper wings finally fluttered to the floor there was a burst of applause for its thrilling achievement.

Outdoor Meet Next Sunday.

Yesterday's indoor meet was to have been the final event of the All-Chicago Model Airplane tournament being sponsored by The Tribune, but, due to the interference of weather conditions, the outdoor flights of the commercial and the twin pusher models have been but partially finished. Those two contests, during which 20 more models are to be awarded, will be resumed next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the big meadow at Washington park.

The medal winners of yesterday's contests, and the time their planes were kept aloft, follow:

CLASS A—FOR BOYS OF 15 AND OVER.
First prize—Irving Johnson, I. M. A. C., 3:15.45.

Tied for second prize—John Russell, Model Airplane Club, 3:02.
Fourth prize—Raymond Meyer, I. M. A. C., 2:58.25.

Fifth prize—Tom Willis, Hamilton park, 2:53.55.

CLASS B—FOR BOYS OF 15 AND UNDER.
First prize—Carl V. Carlson, I. M. A. C., 4:19.

Second prize—Gustave Lela, I. M. A. C., 3:28.

Third prize—Ed Albrecht, I. M. A. C., 3:11.34.

Fourth prize—Stanley Jensen, Roosevelt high school, 3:10.15.

Fifth prize—Stanley Nelson, Roosevelt high school, 3:10.

The winner of the senior division title and the champion among the juniors will be sent to Detroit, Mich., to compete in the national championship tournament.

200 Boys Fly Planes.

More than 200 boys competed for yesterday's medals. Irving Johnson, who formerly held the record for indoor tractor models with the time of three minutes and 28 and 2-10 seconds, while robbed of this championship, came forth with honors yesterday by taking first place in the senior division.

V. K. Brown, superintendent of recreation of the south parks, who is director of the tournament, awarded the medals at the conclusion of the contests, and parents and friends crowded about to witness the ceremony.

were the parents of young Carlson, who said the boy had the basement at home full of airplanes and that it had been hard to get him to leave them long enough to come to meals.

Balloons Aid Craft.

The plane entered by Joe Larkowski of Des Moines park, in an unofficial flight which promised to be most successful, caught in an electric fixture suspended from the high ceiling. Hope for the plane had been abandoned when Eric Peterson and Jonas Anderson appeared with a pair of toy balloons attached to a long string. The balloons, climbing straight upward in the still air, touched the stranded aircraft and provided first aid by loosening it from its entanglements.

Larkowski's plane suffered, but in a later and official flight finished in sixth place.

Air conditions at the armory were ideal for the meet and with no currents to both the planes by the mere tilting of a rudder were kept in perfect control by their makers. The boys are all hoping for an absence of rain and high winds when the commercial and twin pusher flights are resumed at Washington park next Sunday morning.

Famous scalp treatment offered you on legal

hair or costs nothing

WE GROW NEW HAIR

in 90 days' time or you pay nothing. New method acts to revive hair roots. Guarantee in writing furnished by your own dealer.

A NEW and radically different way in hair treatment has been discovered. A way that has proved effective 70% of the time, according to carefully kept records, in some 200,000 cases of falling hair and baldness tested last few years.

It is offered to you under absolute, written guarantee. You use it in your own home. If it fails to grow new hair—regardless of the present condition of your hair—in 90 days, or to stop falling hair completely, it will cost you nothing.

The guarantee is made because the public has, in the past, often been deceived by so-called hair growers. This relieves you of all risk. Your own dealer gives you a signed guarantee.

Revives hair roots formerly believed dead

Important new discoveries have been made. Discoveries that upset previous methods in hair treatment. It is now said that while 4 men in 7 are bald before 40, 91%—or over 9 in 10—are so needlessly.

It has been learned that hair roots seldom die from natural causes. Learned that often, even under almost total baldness, the hair roots still live. Consider what this means.

What it is Now by means of a special, patented applicator (note illustration) the Van Ess way does what no other method does, what no other method has ever done: Massages powerful rejuvenating and germ-combating agents DIRECTLY TO THE ROOTS OF THE HAIR—germ-fighting agents which mark an entirely new era in hair growing.

Thus this remarkable method revives and rejuvenates the actual follicles (or roots) of the hair. No other hair treatment known to science, for home use, embodied that principle. And to make hair grow, the roots must be treated.

In the same application, it combats infection of the Sebum (scalp oil) that forms on the surface of the scalp. The infection to which most falling hair and baldness now are traced, which old-time methods failed in overcoming.

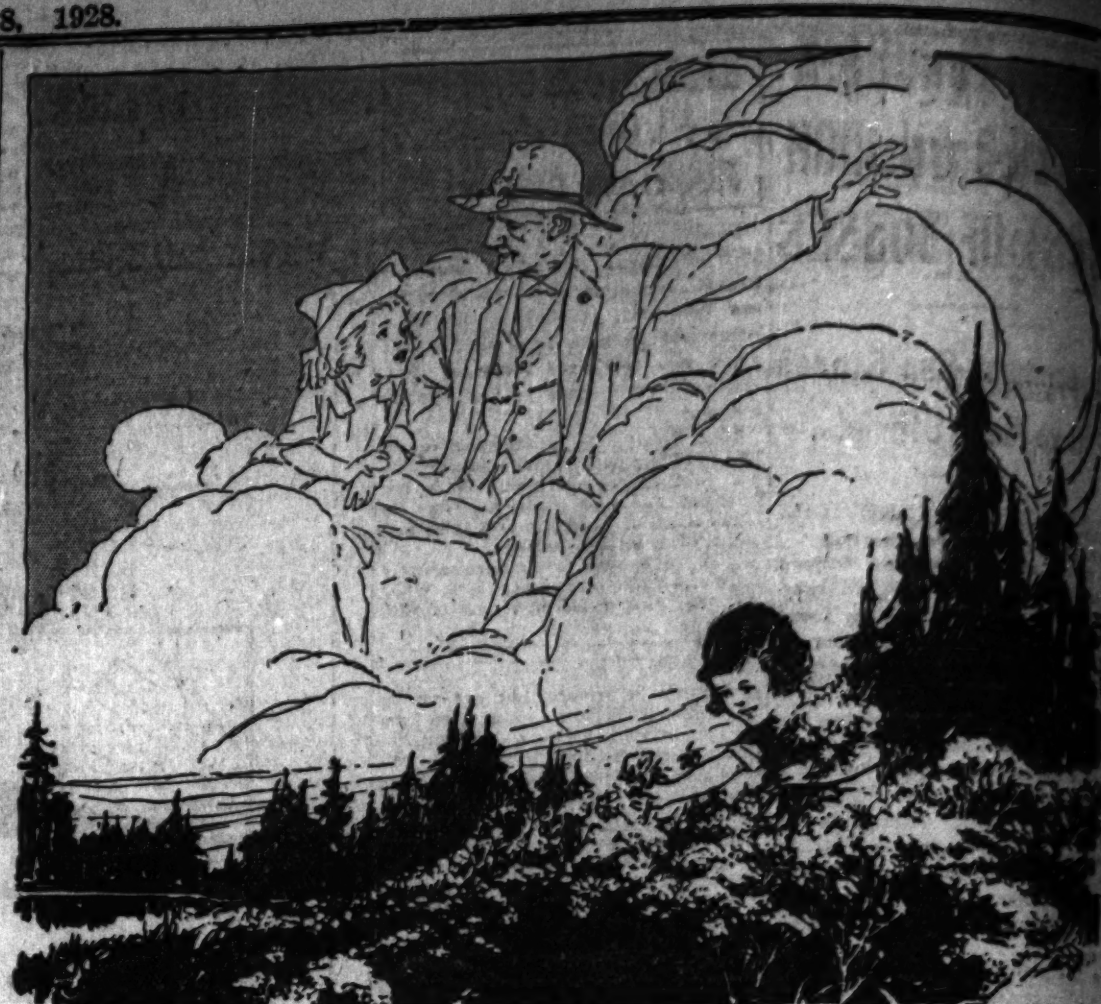

Absolutely guaranteed

The first application will prove coming results to you. You will feel new vigor, new vitality tingling through your scalp. In a short while falling hair will completely STOP. In 90 days or less, new hair will come—or your money back.

Go to any drug store—or to any dealer anywhere. Obtain a full 90-day treatment of Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. The dealer from whom you obtain it will supply you with a written guarantee to grow new hair in 90 days; to completely stop falling hair or your money back.

You alone will be the judge of results. There are no strings to our guarantee. It is absolute. It protects you against loss.

CHICAGO HONORS ITS WAR DEAD IN RITES AT GRAVES

Preparations Made for Memorial Day Parade.

While impressive rites were conducted yesterday over the graves of heroes of three American wars, preparations were being completed for the participation of the entire city in the observance of Memorial day on Wednesday.

The greatest single feature arranged as tribute to the heroic dead will be the parade on Michigan avenue, in which veterans of the civil, Spanish-American, and world wars will be grouped along with detachments of other patriotic organizations.

Plans for Parade Completed.

Under the command of Gen. James E. Stuart, veteran of three wars, the parade will form at Chicago avenue and Michigan boulevard. Thence it will proceed south in Michigan boulevard past the reviewing stand at 8th street. At Roosevelt road the parade will turn west to Wabash avenue, where it will disband.

Firing and bugle squad details assigned by the Memorial day general committee of the veteran corps, First Infantry, Illinois National Guard, paid tribute yesterday to their comrades buried in 23 cemeteries in the vicinity of Chicago.

Flowers Placed on Graves.

At each cemetery groups of volunteers heaped flowers over the graves of soldiers while the firing squad saluted with rifle volleys and the buglers sounded taps.

At Forest Home cemetery Columbia Post of the G. A. R., aided by United Spanish War Veterans, American Legion representatives and Sons of Veterans of the Civil War held memorial services. Judge Klekhan Scanlan delivered the principal address and a chorus of children from the Pope school sang.

Churches Give Thanks for Outcome of Primaries

Special prayers of thanksgiving were offered yesterday in scores of Protestant churches affiliated with the Chicago Church federation for the results of the April primaries here. A day of prayer preceding the primary was observed under the direction of the church federation, and the date for the victory observance was set in a notice in the official bulletin of the organization. Emphasis was placed by many pastors on the necessity of discharging civic responsibility by casting a ballot also in the fall election.

FIFE AND DRUM OF '61 SILENT AT CLUB SERVICES

Blue coated members of the 61st and drum corps of the Grand Army of the Republic last night for the first time in 21 years did not take an active part in the Memorial Sunday services at the Sunday Evening club. None was on the platform, and when Clifford Barnes, president of the club, arose and told of his regret that they were not present, a fragile form in a blue uniform arose among the audience and a voice piped gallantly:

"There's one of 'em here yet." And he saluted and sat down.

The meeting was the last of the season. About 100 G. A. R. veterans were in the audience, and their chaplain, J. L. Albritton, offered a prayer for peace, religion, and brotherhood. Maj. Donald R. Sanger, representing Brig. Gen. Paul B. Malone, commandant at Fort Sheridan, brought the Grand Army men greetings "from the comrades of the last war to the oldest generation of fighters in this country."

Cheer Up Folks; Mr. Pyle's Leg Derby May Show Profit

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, May 27.—The issues in Mr. C. O. Pyle's long foot race are still somewhat confused. Even Dr. John Baker, a physician detailed from Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, to accompany the runners from Los Angeles to New York and make scientific observations of their reactions to the strain, had not been able to sort out his impressions the day after the finish at the New Garden. Moreover, his ethics were so highly developed that he does not wish to be quoted in the newspapers, but will present his findings to his profession in a scientific paper which will be prepared with appropriate deliberation.

Athletes Fare Well.
Most of the runners who finished the 3,400 mile run lost some weight, but not much, and a few gained slightly. A few who raced for two or three weeks, then dropped out and attached themselves to the bull gang of the carnival show just for the ride, gained prodigiously.

Phil Greville, the Ontario Negro, who finished third, weighed exactly as much at the finish as he did at the start. Granville slumped the pavement with the largest set of dogs observed in professional athletics since the days of Tut Jackson, the Negro heavyweight prize fighter, who once concealed a manhole cover with either sole as neatly as the normal sole can cover a dropped dime in a theater lobby.

Beyond a slight fever in certain areas of these dogs, Granville finished the race in good repair and Doctor Baker's comments on Philip's condition will deal with the magnitude rather than the health of these men.

Go to See His Family.
Shortly after the race, Granville took a train for home to receive the sympathy and admiration of his good wife for having endured the ordeal. While he was suffering from bunions and dog fever on the road, she died at home in guilty case, interrupted only by one slight discomfort. She presented Philip with an heir.

Before leading his dogs into a berth for the night, Philip permitted himself a modest comparison.
"Lindbergh," he said, "only sat down and drove an engine for 36 hours. I ran 84 days, on my feet."

Mr. Pyle, a man of much guile, still maintains that he lost something he ought to be known to the public as one of the deserving poor, believing that nobody ever sees a pauper. In two years Mr. Pyle has been served with more than 40 writs of attachment. Furthermore, a comparison of the known receipts of his venture with the estimated expenditures leaves no wide margin, indicating that he has achieved a financial standoff, or, thereabouts, thus far, and is about to take his profit from the 26 hour and six day team race between pairs of his runners, in New York, Boston, Detroit, and possibly Cleveland and Chicago.

Boys Have Side Rackets.
It also seems, on further consideration of the evidence, that some of the outstanding marathon martyrs are natural born martyrs who have made martyrdom and dire poverty their profession. Experts in the science known as pulling a long face, several of the most convincing sufferers in the motley caravan lost no opportunity to appeal to their co-religionists or companions in racial minority in every stopping place from coast to coast and did quite well at it.

Following are the elapsed times and positions of leading contestants completing the trans-continental foot race:
1. Andrew Paine, Claremore, Okla., 573:04.34.
2. Phil Greville, Hamilton, Ont., 619:42.50.

The last man to finish traveled the 3,400 miles in 1,142:25:35.

They point out, further, that the pilots who handle the speed babies have been working on the track for weeks under all sorts of tough conditions and in excellent shape to negotiate the 500 mile grind with perfection of their small mounts, regardless of racing breaks and content in driving which develop in actual official running hours.

Speedway officials will have all drivers and owners gathered tomorrow at a meeting where a lengthy lecture on ethics, rules, and procedure will be given over for the last time.

The drivers to constitute the first set of three that will be sent away at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, opening the big race, will be Leon Dury in a front drive Miller Special, Cliff Woodbury, of Chicago, in a Boyle Special front drive, and Cliff Burgess in a Miller rear drive machine.

Play at each hole began with each aerial contestant dropping a golf ball as close as possible to the hole. This counted as one stroke. The players on the ground then proceeded as in a regular game. The winners held the ball in two at the par five sixth hole.

Braves Buy George Sisler from Senators

New York, May 27.—[Special.]—Rogers Hornsby took the first step toward reconstructing the Boston Braves today when he purchased George Sisler, first baseman and great hitter of other years, from the Washington Senators.

Announcing the acquisition at Ebbetts field, Brooklyn, Hornsby declared that the deal, but said that the former University of Michigan star's big contract had been absorbed by the Boston managers, one of the game's most versatile players, was valued out of the American league recently.

It is believed the Braves paid the interleague waiver price of $7,500 for Sisler, and that the deal was an outright sale.

Sisler left Washington tonight to join the Braves in Brooklyn.

The deal will land two former rival St. Louis managers side by side in the Boston infield. Hornsby having piloted the Cardinals during most of the years Sisler managed the Browns.

AL SPINK, 74, NOTED SPORTS WRITER, IS DEAD

Alfred H. Spink, widely known sportswriter and editor, died yesterday afternoon after a lengthy illness at his home, 518 S. Lyman avenue, Oak Park. He was 74 years old.

As Mr. Spink was known throughout the sports world, was connected with sports and sports publications nearly all of his life. He founded the Sporting News, the baseball newspaper, which later was taken over by his brother, Charles C. Spink. He also at one time owned the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mr. Spink wrote two famous sport books, "The Spink Sport Stories," 1,000 short stories on sports, and "The National Game," baseball stories. In late years he was connected with the Brunswick, Balke, Collender Co.

Mr. Spink is survived by three sons, Alfred H. Jr., William S. and Charles C., and a daughter, Florence. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon from his late residence.

Westernholm Cycles 95 Miles to Qualify for Olympics

Peterston, N. J., May 27.—[Special.]—Charles Westernholm of the Century Road Club association qualified for the American Olympic cycling road team as the result of a victory in a 95 mile unpaired race over New Jersey roads here this morning.

McCarthy was glad he had his great reserve strength in the outfield. With Stephenson and Cuyler sick it was sweet to have a lad able to make all the outfield putouts, make three hits, and draw a pass, drive in two-thirds of the total runs, and get the only stolen base in the game.

Those fun loving Pirates, under a heavy guard of chaperones, yesterday made the round trip between here and Pittsburgh just for the privilege of getting shut out, 3 to 0, by Fred Blake and other efficient Cubs. More than 35,000 saw the game, which was played in one hour and 13 minutes.

To make the flight of the probationary Pirates all the more futile, the Sheriff tolerated not so much as the fattening of batting averages except in the case of Sprout Waner and old Joe Harris. The Cubs' pitcher allowed only five hits and two runs, which was his first appearance since he sprained an ankle more than a week ago.

Heathcote Has Big Day.
If the notation about five hits isn't sufficient data on how good Fred was, it may be set down that aside from the hits, only

BULLS COUNT ON EUROPE TO RAISE PRICES OF WHEAT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Weather and crop news in the northwest were dominating factors in the wheat market most of last week, but failed to prevent a sharp break at the last. That break caused a loss of nearly all the gain of 7 1/2¢ from the previous week's low, with the finish 1/2¢ higher to 1/2¢ lower than the previous week.

Settlement in the American and Canadian northwest. It is believed that unless there are good general rains over Minnesota, the Dakota, Montana, and western Canada this week higher prices are likely.

Market Largely Professional. The market largely is professional, but local holders, in taking profits at the close, fearing a possible change in the weather conditions, were largely responsible for the loss of early gains. It was conceded by traders friendly to higher prices that, although the foreign crop situation may be similar to last, in 1928, when wheat advanced above the $2 level, there must be a general broadening in trade on the buying side to carry prices materially higher and hold the advance.

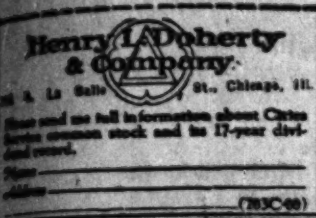

It is rather early to get too bullish on northwestern crop prospects, but should there be no improvement in the moisture situation in the spring wheat country within a week, there will be the foundation of a good bull market. May wheat closed around the lowest of the week at $1.67 1/2, July and September at $1.65 1/2 and $1.64 1/2, being unusual for both months to be at the same price, with December at $1.65 1/2. There was only one difference between July and September wheat at Chicago and July at Winnipeg, with their May 1/2 under Chicago's at the close of the week. Prices for the week follow:

The New York Times.

New York, May 26.—(Special.)—The five day break on the stock exchange culminated last Tuesday after carrying down prices of highly speculative shares all the way from 10 to 40 points. That break was followed by recovery of 5 to 12 points. Wall Street then seemed pretty generally to infer nothing of consequence had happened.

Margin had been ample. When the outside public had sold its stock it had done so to cash its profits; now it was eager to throw its money back on the green table.

Brokers' loans actually had been reduced. Although the week's reduction of $46,000,000 still left that account at $760,000,000 above the March figure and $1,491,000,000 greater than a year ago, it was considered a step to betterment.

Even with the partial stock market recovery the speculative fraternity began to talk of the federal reserve system as having played its last card.

Idea Seems Premature. Possibly it is a little early to jump to that conclusion. It hardly is certain as yet what the stock market itself will do. We know what it did after the New York bank rate followed the advance at the other reserve banks when speculation had got out of hand in January, 1928.

The immediate break in prices lasted about a week, brokers' loans being reduced. Then Wall Street proceeded to put up prices to a higher level than before, and even redoubled at the federal reserve increased $100,000,000.

The money market tightened further, and between the middle of February and the end of March a decline of 2500 points occurred on the stock exchange. Brokers' loans were cut nearly $700,000,000 to a reasonably normal figure and a rather long spell of markets with less than a million shares a day ensued.

In the existing state of the financial mind, however, that episode seems to belong to the very distant past. It is not quite true that Wall Street considers the economic precedent of 1928 abolished like that of 1914.

One cannot talk with downtown banker or broker for five minutes, however, without perceiving that the view of speculative inflation taken today is totally different from that of two years ago. The feeling of the more experienced commission house managers oscillates between vague apprehension concerning a runaway public with the bit in its teeth and admiration of the staying power which enables it to keep on running, however the rider may pull at the reins. The disposition of the moment apparently is to say that the market cannot be stopped.

That this supposition would imply progressively tightening money Wall Street as a rule admits, but the speculative public looks at the money market differently. Already the remark is occasionally heard, even in serious quarters, that a "big market" is entitled to a proportionately larger share of the credit fund. If the stock market is willing to put up sufficient amounts of safe collateral who has a right to refuse it the requisite credit?

Money Seems Plentiful. For that matter, why need money be tight, except under artificial influences, in a market with so much superfluous capital that it tends a thousand millions abroad every year?

This at least is a well known argument of speculative days. It convinced even Wall Street in 1919 and 1920. It was emphatically proclaimed by the New York Trust company president who denounced what he called the "foolish fetish of a cash reserve" in the excited period before the panic of 1927. The founders of the federal reserve had a different notion. Their view of the matter was the same as intelligent bankers have held for a hundred years.

The requiring of a fixed percentage of standard money as a reserve against the liabilities created by extension of banking credit was chosen deliberately as the rope to the balloon, designed to sit exactly such times as these.

Reichs-Kredit-Gesellschaft Aktiengesellschaft, Berlin, Germany, Trustee. Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, Ill., Co-Trustee

The following information is taken from official sources:

The German Savings Banks and Clearing Association (the Central Association) is an organization for facilitating municipal banking and to assist in the development of credit and saving institutions of municipalities and other governmental subdivisions of Germany. The Association comprises fourteen District Associations and four Provincial banks owned, respectively, by the Provinces of Rhineland, Westphalia and the two subdivisions of the Province of Hessen-Nassau. The cities and towns which are members of the District Associations and the three Provinces embrace more than half the population of Germany and as country districts generally are also included, it is estimated that the total membership embraces a population of over 56,000,000, or approximately 90% of the entire population of Germany.

In the opinion of counsel, these Bonds will be the direct obligations of the Association and as such will be in ultimate effect the joint and several obligations of approximately 2,500 cities, towns and municipal districts which comprise the membership of the District Associations as well as of the Provinces of Rhineland and Westphalia and the two subdivisions of the Province of Hessen-Nassau. The member municipalities, in practically all cases, own their own gas, water, electrical and other public works.

In addition, the Bonds of 6% Series due 1947 will be specifically secured by pledge with the Trustee of an equal principal amount of bonds issued or guaranteed by municipalities located throughout Germany. The pledged bonds will correspond in interest rate, sinking fund and maturity to the Bonds of this issue. Interest and sinking fund on the pledged bonds will be payable in dollars and will provide the funds necessary to satisfy the interest and sinking fund requirements of the Bonds of this issue.

According to Government authorization the proceeds of this loan must be used only for electric properties, water works and other revenue producing public works. Furthermore it must be established that there is a public need for the work contemplated and that the income will be sufficient to provide the interest and amortization requirements of the loan.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send a circular describing the issue in detail.
